An invite to Our Arsenal Fan Brothers from Turkiye

Hello Dear Brothers,

I am writing to you from Didim, Turkiye. 4 days ago, as you know, we won the Champions League quarter-final first leg match to Chelsi in Istanbul. Maybe you know, before the match some of Galatasaray fans - our enemies - were waiting for Chelsi to give them support and moral. That was unbelievable and they made their worst attack to us. We, as the Fenerbahce Fans, would like our Arsenal Fan Brothers to welcome Fenerbahce at the airport to show our brothership to the world. (Match date: 8 April - I don't know when Fenerbahce arrives to there yet) I hope you understand my desire, this is a pride issue.

Anyone to ask and join the organisation; please contact:

tugcu81@hotmail.com (MSN Messenger)

Greets from your Fenerbahce Fan Brothers - Turkiye,
Sincerely,
Serdar TUGCU

I will not whatsoever in any way support that kind of fan culture, that you have got.

And I cannot see how it involves Arsenal...

So pull yourself together! And act properly it is only football after all, though you might seem to think otherwise...

Good Luck to Fenerbahce!

Just play football! You can beat Chelski!

Soccer first. No fighting, no hooligans... What for? Life is short...

COncentrate.

Anyway, I think Fenerbahce really can beat Chelsea and move on to the next stage.

BUT then, hopefully, we will be there and then we can have a Fiery encounter. ON THE PITCH!
