
Man U vs Chelsea in Moscow

Ok. Now we confirmed the 2 finalist.

It is funny that FIFA did not realise the problem of logistics when we get two English team in the final.

Its going to one hell of a project to get to Moscow. :huh:

btw, since we hate both teams, should we watch the final anyway?

Sigh...

It is sure I will not watch the final match.

Instead, UEFA final match would be better than Champions League Final.

I think it'd be a boring match.:S :S

The Russian have relaxed on some Visa problems but the logistics issue remains thorny.

Manure has won the BPL title on the last day. So the market talk is that Chelski will take the CL title. In addition, as it is played in Russia, there is more conspiracy theory that Abramovich may have some say in the final result.

Who knows? My personal guess? Chelsea to nick this. 3-1.

Who would you like to see to win CL, Manchester United or Chelsea?(question for everybody)

I dislike both but I prefer Chelsea.

i prefer chelsea also but some mates are saying no london club have won the CL before. If chelsea does so this time, they will be the first from London to do it.....

Man U won. 6-5 on penalties.

1-1 at half time and full time.
Ronaldo scored first and Lampard replied.

Drogba got sent off 4 mins before penalties for a light 'slap' on Vidic face.

ronaldo missed penalty and terry missed penalty. then Anelka missed the sudden death penalty to give Manure the title.

I've hated ManUtd since I can remember watching football. I've hated them in '92, I've hated them in '99 and from yesterday I hate them even more. Someone may ask why do you hate them? because God loves them. That's why. They played only good 30mins in the beginning, and that was it. Chelsea was by far the better team.
