Preview of Day 14 - 2nd Quarter Final

Croatia vs Turkey

Raising Team vs Raised from the dead team

Croatia have topped their group and shown their precocious talent in abundance by beating every team along the way. Even with a second string team in their last group match, the chemistry and talent is evident to all.

Turkey on the other hand, were pretty much dead and buried in their match against the Czech. However, with 15 mins to go and 2-0 down, they somehow managed to pull a rabbit out of the hat and win 3-2. That is 3 goals in 15 mins against one of the best goalkeeper (no more) in the world.

Its one of the most amazing comeback I have ever seen in my lifetime. certainly cost a lot of heart pain and pocket pain (money fly away....)...
the Czech defence once again proving as soft as jelly...

so Who do we choose tonight?
The talented squad or the battered comeback kids

I choose Croatia, simply because they are too strong for Turkey.

The score: 4-2.
Sit tight for an exciting game.

Turkey simply fights till the end and certainly not going to be an easy meat.
Croatia's midfield is outstanding and will edge out Turkey in this game.
Croatia 3 Turkey 1

i think the reserve keeper for Turkey might be the key player. Rustu or something.

Croatia to prevail after normal time.

All of our guess is wrong.....

When Croatia scored at 120 minutes, It thought Croatia will win the match....
but....Turkey equalized immediately..

Well Done Rustu!!!

yeah, crazy game it was in 120 there wasnt so many chances but than in the end two goals, amazing turkey was fighting to the end, recber made very big mistake at first goal but he became hero because he saved penalty semi final: germany-turkey who do you think will win??
