
Preview of Day 15 - Dutch vs Dutch

Posted by Coolman!!! - 2008/06/21 17:27

Hiddink (A Dutch) will lead Russia against his beloved country, Holland.

It promises to be an explosive encounter as the Russian has regained their confidence with the return of their playmaker Arshavin back in action. Their 2-0 win over Sweden served a warning to the dutch of their capability.

Holland has everyone raring to go as Van Basten rested several regulars in their last group game. In addition, our very own RVP is ready! he has score 2 goals and is keen to add on to this tally. With horseface, Robben, Sneijder etc in a very talented Dutch side, Holland is still the hottest team on form now.

My Guess: 3-1 to Holland

:)

so sad.. i thgt RVP will get more goals.

Holland is oUT! sensational performance by arshavin. He will be the star of this tournament going by the way he is performing.

the better team won...

I just could not believe that Russia's man to man marking work that well for them.They close down the flairs and flanks of flying dutch.

Arshavin indeed prove real dangerous for holland.

Damn!!!Holland's out..!!!
