Who will win Euro?

Posted by Coolman!!! - 2008/02/28 18:05

With 3 months to go, who do you think will win the European 2008 Championship?

Choose your team here and see how you think as we near the date.

My choose now is England!

Hahahaha.. just kidding...
(since they are not even there to my dismay....)

My choice is Germany based on current form.

Please select yours in the Poll and post a note here.

Donadoni dropped Inzaghi and Inzaghi was quite angry about it.

I still think Germany at the moment.

Holland is also very strong. They have amazing players. Like Huntelaar, Nistelrooy, Sneijder, Van der Vaart, van Persie, Heitinga,.. Only amazing names. But for me favourites are also Germans as Coolman said. But we never knows what will happen. Just look in 2004, Greece was champion and nobody expected that.

I can't understand why Aragones ignores Raul..
He is a good player..

Well the bookmaker's favorit is Germany.

And I have to admit that they are also my favorit for the title.

They have a great team, they play well together and they have won it many times before.

But there are of course other teams that also could grab the title: Italy, France, Portugal and Spain.

I am going to buy Spain. The odds of them winning is quite high.

Anyone got other picks? Or inside info?

Yes, I also hate Domenech.

When Pires played in Arsenal, he also didn't choose Pires...and again, he skipped flamini, Ben-alfa, Cisse and our clichy and sagna..

How can I understand him...?:angry: :angry:

I saw france in action last nite against paraguay..

with the likes of benzema,ribery,henry,malouda and makelele they look dangerous most of the times..With benzema and ribery combined together last nite,they look awesome with their deadly pace and split passes..

Germany looking shaky in defence this time.

I think Holland or Germany will win..

Will someone make a poll for it?

I think Romania is a good team..with Chivu, Mutu..etc.

So,..they also have a chance to pass through group stage...
