Although there is no big teams in the final, I think it'd be a good match.

Portsmouth can win but I like Cardiff more.:laugh:

Hi all,

I think Portsmouth will win. They are resting players and all their focus is on the cup.

Pride is also at stake for them.

So my bet is on Portsmouth

Tonight is the FA Cup Final.

'Mighty' Portsmouth meet Cardiff City in Wembley.

The fairy tales lovers will want David to beat Goliath. Roll back the years for former premierships stars like Robbie Fowler, Jimmy Floyd Hasselbank and Peter Enkelmann who are now playing for League 1 team Cardiff.

It has to be said that Portsmouth have been playing shit football in the last month but i have a sneaky feeling that they are just saving their strength for today's game.

Kanu, Distin, Diarra, Niko Kranjar, David James and co.... will not let this golden opportunity go by.

All said, Pompey to win. 3-0

Portsmouth ( or the second arsenal in the BPL) with former arsenal players (Sol, Kanu, Diarra) scored a 1-0 win to claim the FA Cup. With it, they are into Europe.

maybe that is why they lost. I missed the game but my mates told me it was one of the most boring FA Cup final ever.
