Does Arsenal need another Goalkeeper?

A world class goalkeeper.

There is some huge debate among me and my friends that Almunia is just not World class.

He is reliable and safe. If a shot on target is spectacular, Lehmann will have a higher % of saving the shot. If a weak shot bounce in front of the keeper, Lehmann will have a higher % of messing it up and letting it go into our goal.

so, do we need to sign another GK?

You are absolutely right.

But, let's look at the truth and we can conclude that we have other positions and players that are more critical. And from last week's statements on the financial condition, it is clear Arsenal can't splash huge money.

Almunia and Lukazs are good and reliable keepers, of course they are not world class, but you can count that kind of keepers on the fingers on your hand, and they don't come cheap :)Maybe PSV's keepers Gomez, can be an interesting option.

Wanger said that he will not buy a goalkeeper and i belive him...but i think that we need one,Almunia is a good keaper but sometimes he makes big mistakes.....i really think that if we play whit Fabianski he will be a very good player

OK all goalkeepers are making mistakes. Yes we dont have wordclass goalkeepers but Buffon also wasnt wordclass goalkeeper and now he is. Also our goalkeepers are on this way to become wordclass.

I think that we need more other players to other positions and the mistakes which Almunia has making, is one thing that he could improve and like this, become a world class goalkeeper.

Yes, Arsenal needs a good goalkeeper. I think Bolton's Jaaskelainen will be suitable for Arsenal.

But it is sure Wenger will not buy any keeper and he'll give no.1 place to Fabianski.:dry:

wow, Drugo! you actually spoke to him. Lucky.....

We do need another Keeper. Someone to pressure Almunia to improve himself further or to replace Almunia if he is better.

i dont think bringing a goal keeper is priority . Almunia has been consistent and the team has confidence in him. Besides, he wud rather spent the money on bringing in midfielders. The goalkeeping department is not the one that needs improvement.
But msybe in the longrun he wud require another keeper . and hopefully this one wud be both consistent and worldclass

I would like say the budget is real tight..use in the more needed areas to replace the so-called noisy Helb!!!

We need a top class goalkeeper, but i don't thik that Wanger will spend money to buy goalkeepers this summer, it will be ,Nr.1 Almunia ,Nr.2 Fabianski ,Nr.3 Mannone
